Joel Dinkin Professional Development Award

The Joel Dinkin Professional Development Award, established in honor of former JCC Executive Director Joel Dinkin, offers support for a professional development grant to an outstanding JCC staff member. Candidates are nominated by JCC employees and members. Winners have worked at the JCC for one year or more, are supportive of their colleagues, committed to learning and professional growth, extend themselves to provide exceptional help/service to members, and show exceptional commitment to the mission of the JCC.

This year’s winner, Victor Small, is the JCC’s maintenance technician.

Victor can be found in every part of the JCC serving as a top-rate Mr. Fix-It. From fixing electrical issues to installing water fountains, his help and skillset at the JCC is immeasurable. Victor is a friendly, kind, compassionate, and empathetic employee. JCC members love when he drives the JCC bus. He is kind, respectful, and interested in their lives. According to one colleague, “Victor’s attention to detail, perfection, and excellence when involved in any project, supports the JCC’s physical building thereby enhancing the experiences of our members.” He also has a good sense of humor, a desire to learn and grow in his job, and a great respect for the JCC’s mission and work.

Victor has worked at the JCC since 2013. He served in the Air Force for ten years. Victor calls Cleveland home, but has lived in Columbus since 2006 with his wife, Kerin M. Abercrombie-Small.

Shana Levin

This year’s Shem Tov Award goes to Shana Levin for her lifetime of commitment and leadership at the JCC.

Shana has been a part of the JCC community her whole life, starting out as one of JCC’s smallest members in the JCC preschool. As a community leader, she has served as Jr. Maccabi Co-Chair, Preschool Parent Committee Chair, on the Early Childhood Council, and as a JCC Board Member. This year, Shana increased her leadership roles by serving as an integral part of the team that created the inaugural Michael J. Canter JCC Leadership Program. Named in memory of her father, the MJC JCC Leadership Program mentors and develops emerging leaders in the Jewish community. As part of that team, she helped organize curriculum, facilitate speakers, set up spaces, greet program members, and outreach into the community.

Shana’s leadership continues as she is currently chairing the community event honoring retiring JCC Executive Director Carol Folkerth.

Shana not only serves by example, but is committed to developing other community leaders through her work with the MJC JCC Leadership Program. Shana and her family love spending time at the JCC, working out in the fitness center, catching up with friends, or participating in other JCC programming.
The Helen Nutis Volunteer Mitzvah Award was established by long-time JCC volunteer Helen Nutis to recognize the outstanding volunteer contributions of individuals or groups at the JCC.

This year's Helen Nutis Volunteer Mitzvah Award is presented to Lisa Newmark. Lisa has long served the JCC as a leader but this year volunteered an extraordinary amount of time to chair the search committee for the next JCC Chief Executive Officer.

In an effort that amounted to a full time job, Lisa led a committee of twenty people with an incredibly intense work load of organizing countless meetings, drafting the position descriptions, reviewing applications, organizing interviews of candidates, and more.

Lisa and her husband, Dr. Arnold Good, have been JCC members since they moved to Columbus in 1985.

Lisa has served the JCC in many significant leadership roles, including as a JCC President of the Board of Trustees from 2013-2015. She was heavily involved in establishing both the North East and North JCC preschools. She has served on the preschool committee, as Gala Co-Chair for JCC 100 in 2013, Camp Committee Chair, Chair of Junior Maccabi Committee 1991, Co-Chair of Housing Committee of the JCC Maccabi Games in 2004, and on the steering committee for 2016 Maccabi Games.
